DAILY RACING FORM

PETER McCUE IS BEATEN.

Saturday's Ingalls Park card was first class and a crowd of almost 5,000 folks went out to discuss it. The features were the defeat of that sensational two-year-old Peter McCue, and good contests in the mile and a quarter handicap and a hurdle race at the same distance.

Peter McCue was the center of attraction. He had not been beaten before this year and a majority of turf followers thought him to be a colt of considerable class. In all his races Peter has never been asked to go over four and one-half furlongs or beat more than an ordinary two-year-old. Yesterday, however, he was asked to go five furlongs, and beat Knowles, Algareta and Lizzie Cavalier. The ring made Peter an odds-on choice, and most of the farmers from Central Illinois were on hand to play him. Peter got away well and opened a gap of ten lengths on the far turn and at the head of the stretch looked all over a winner. About the eighth pole Peter began to sprawl all over the track, and Algareta and Knowles, passing him as though he was anchored, fought it out. Algareta won by a short nose in the remarkable time of 1:01 1/4.

Morte Fosse was favorite for the handicap, but he appeared too stiff and sore to extend himself and finished a distant third. Pinkey Potter won after a spirited contest with old Rudolph.

Southworth, at a long price, had it all his own way in the first race, and Abuse won his just as easily.

The jumping race furnished more than ordinary excitement. Repeater won by a head from his stable companion, St. Brandon. The latter was far the best and the boy had to pull him all over the stretch to let Repeater win.

Time, 11¼, 22¼, 3¼, 47, 1:01¼.
Winner—Br. f, by Bramble—Caledonia.
Post 8 minutes. Start good. Won in the hardest kind of a drive; second and third were hard pressed too. Peter McCue displayed his yellow streak at the eighth pole. He is a speed marvel with no class. Knowles was the best. Caywood made his run too late with him. Algareta is a smart filly. Lizzie Cavalier was outclassed; so was Bonito.
Scratched—Nona P, 95.

8555 THIRD RACE—5-8 Mile. Purse $300. 4-year-olds and upward. Selling.
